Judge McFie announced yesterday afternoon that court would continue all this week, and would adjourn the last of the week, until the 10th or 15th of January 1912. This is necessary on account of the sessions of the Supreme Court at Santa Fe next week. In all probability the state officers will have taken charge of affairs and the new judges will be upon the bench upon the re-convening of the court.

Scalded with Hot Coffee

The three year old son of Adolfo Otero and wife, of Tajique N. M. pulled the coffee pot full of boiling coffee from the stove, Saturday night spilling the hot liquid over its body, scalding it so badly that it died Sunday night from the effects thereof.

Funeral services were held yesterday, interment being in the Tajique cemetery.

Several times yesterday an attempt at snowing was made, but in vain. Judge McFie had promised to bring us a snowstorm and did his best to keep his word. And he may do it yet.

F. F. Jennings moved his office up from Willard yesterday and has opened a law office in the rooms with U. S. Commissioner W. A. Brumback.

The revival services at the Methodist Church closed on Sunday night. Evangelist Huckabee proved himself a forceful preacher of the Scripture and promised to visit Estancia again to conduct another meeting.

Among the many who are here attending court, we notice J. C. Jaramillo, Torreon; T. Tabot and Dr. C. J. Amble, Manzano; J. P. Dunlavy, F. L. Hill, Mountainair; Jesus Candelaria, Tajique; J. B. Underwood, Fred Chavez, Willard. Judge M. T. Moriarty, Moriarty.

The peculiar properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy have been thoroughly tested during epidemics of influenza, and when it was taken in time we have not heard of a single case of pneumonia. Sold by all dealers.

Irrigationists to Salt Lake City

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 9.—Salt Lake City was chosen unanimously for the next National Irrigation congress at the final session here today. The meeting was protracted when a fight was started over a resolution for state investigation of all irrigation and mining projects with a view to weeding out those that were unworthy and thus saving loss by investors.

The congress elected these officers:

President—United States senator Francis G. Newlands, of Nevada.

Secretary—Arthur Hooker, of Chicago.

Foreign secretary—E. McQueen Gray, of Albuquerque, N. M.

First vice president—R. In singer, of Spokane, Wash.

Second vice president—J. B. Case, Abilene, Kans.

Third vice president—John Fairweather, Fresno, Cal.

A resolution was adopted urging the states to appoint commissions to investigate the prospects and literature of all irrigation and mining projects undertaken by private capital.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry of the department of agriculture, urged sanitation of streams used for irrigation purposes.

When the standpat Republican papers announce that Bull Andrews is "the people's choice for United States Senator," they lie! They are not laboring under a misapprehension, they are not mistaken. They are just knowingly and wilfully lying. "The people" do not want Bull Andrews in the Senate, and the editors of those papers who are so far lost to all sense of decency, honesty, and truth as to make such an announcement, know it.

There is not a Progressive Republican in New Mexico that wants him; there is not an honest Democrat that wants him; the better element of the Standpat Republicans don't want him; the lovers of good, honest government don't want him, and even the people who had him thrust upon them in Washington don't want him sent back there. The question naturally arises: who does want him in the United States Senate? Only those who hope to profit by his underhand work and methods. These are they who want Bull Andrews in the Senate. Only these and none others.

Velma Souders Funeral Sunday

All that was mortal of Velma Souders was laid to rest in the Estancia Cemetery Sunday afternoon, a large number of friends and neighbors following the cortege to its last resting place.

After suffering for some days from appendicitis, she was improving steadily, when an attack of whooping cough set in, proving too much for the already weakened system. Death relieved the little sufferer on Sunday morning.

Velma was the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Souders, and had reached the age of eight years. In school and Sunday school she was a favorite with both playmates and teachers, and will be missed by both. The bright, smiling face will be missed from the home, but the parents' brothers and sisters have the assurance that she has gone beyond the reach of pain and suffering. Rev. J. Q. Herin conducted the funeral services.

Among the attorneys attending court are: Col. G. W. Prichard, Chas. R. Easley, E. P. Davies of Santa Fe, H. B. Hamilton of Capitan. F. A. Woods of Albuquerque. F. F. Jennings of Willard.
